Professional Summary

About Nate:

Nate Fleming is the IT System Administrator for the firm.

Nate manages and maintains the firm's existing technology infrastructure while constantly looking for new technology solutions to help the firm – lawyers, paralegals and staff -- work faster and better. Essential to this effort is use of the latest technology to manage large, complex cases and present them in courts nationwide.

Nate contributes to the firm hands-on experience with networking systems (Microsoft Windows, Cisco and others) and a wide range of server platforms, along with extensive hardware and software skills. Prior to joining the firm, he spent ten years as a systems consultant, site administrator and network administrator at a number of other entities.

Nate holds two undergraduate degrees from Colorado State University, one in biology and another in environmental health. Since graduation, he has pursued additional coursework in math and computer science at Colorado University at Denver.

“Outdoors, I like to camp, hike and snowboard. Indoors, I enjoy bowling, dining at good restaurants, cooking, video gaming, football and fantasy football. I also enjoy brewing and drinking beer.”
